Battle Hymn of the Marshalls

Tune: "Battle Hymn of the Republic"

The Clan of Marshall is among the famous clans of old;
Each century our numbers have increased a dozen fold;
Among the world's great families our family is pure gold!
The clan goes marching on!

Chorus: Glory to the name of Marshall!
Glory to the tribe of Marshall!
Virile, worthy, brave and loyal,
The clan goes marching on!

William, Thomas, George and John were fathers of our clan;
Posterity of Jacob and Sir Horace never ran;
Edward was quite virile, William was a sturdy man.
The clan goes marching on!

Stephen preached the gospel; William was a soldier bold;
Marshall crossed the ocean in the "Hopewell," we are told;
John Marshall was U. S. Chief Justice; James discovered gold.
The clan goes marching on!

Horace was Lord Mayor; Thomas, chaplain to the King;
Josiah was a sailor unafraid of anything;
We have a pride in Marshall kinsmen, that is why we sing—
The clan goes marching on!

The Marshall Clan is mighty with two hundred thousand strong;
In seventy-six, four hundred Marshalls fought to right a wrong;
Twenty towns bear Marshall names. Sure, let us sing that song—
The clan goes marching on!

The Marshalls dwelt in England, Scotland, Ireland and in Wales;
Where English tongue is spoken now the Marshall name prevails:
How could the nations but advance when Marshall never fails.
The clan goes marching on!

The Marshall sons have courage any task or foe to face;
The Marshall girls are lovely with their beauty, charm and grace;
The Marshall leaven is a blessing to the human race.
The clan goes marching on!

No matter what opposes or what enemies assail,
With Marshalls joined in worthy causes, justice should prevail.
Those who claim the name and blood of Marshall never fail.
The clan goes marching on!

(A) INTRODUCTION

HE Marshall Family is among the forty-nine "best families" selected by the American Historical-Genealogical Society for whom the Society has published family histories during the past few years.

The Marshall Family has been prominent in the British Empire and in the United States, its members having played important roles in war and in peace. All Marshalls have just cause to be proud of their family history and traditions.

In references No. 7 and No. 14 we find the following regarding the origin and meaning of the name Marshall:

The word "marshall" has doubled its meaning in a very singular style. Cotgrave says: "A marshall of a kingdom or of a campe (an honorable place); also a black-smith, a farmer or a horse-leech." By degrees the word was applied to the "magister equorum" or master of cavalry, and to other offices of state connected with the management of great public affairs. Hence, under the ancien regime we have the Great Marshalls of France—governors of provinces, et cetera—as well as the Earl-Marshall of England and the Lord Marischal of Scotland. In the case of the old Earls of Pembroke, the surname and office of Mareschal or Commander-in-Chief was hereditary.

As we see, then, the surname was sometimes derived from this superior occupation, and sometimes from the occupation of "the marshall"—the farrier who was a necessity in every populous center and who was found in all counties.

The several meanings of the word and the many persons of ancient times engaged in the occupation mentioned account for the familiarity of this name.

The data in this volume is gathered from reliable sources. We have selected what we consider the most important material. Many of the daughters, and sons for whom no issue was shown, have been omitted from the pedigrees. A missing symbol indicates that a name has been omitted. Those desiring further information are advised to consult the volumes mentioned in the list of References.

The compiler hopes that, in producing this volume, he is bringing to the Marshall Family information which will be of interest and value to them, and that he is rendering an important service to the public. He and his associates will be glad to give their co-operation to members of the family who are interested in having a complete genealogy of the family published.

Unless otherwise plainly shown, the persons in this volume whose names are accompanied by three figures are children of the immediately preceding persons bearing immediately preceding numbers. All persons in each group bearing the same letter as a part of their numbers are directly related. The generations of the descendants of those bearing numbers of three figures are represented as follows. However, some of our material is published as copied from various records without rearrangement according to this system.

Generations	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	5th

(B) THE MARSHALL COAT OF ARMS

COAT of Arms is an emblem or a device which is displayed by titled persons, persons of royal blood, and their descendants. Coats of Arms were originally used for purposes of identification and recognition on the field of battle as well as in civil life.

It is claimed by some writers that Coats of Arms, in a crude form, were used by Noah's sons after the flood. There are records of other Coats of Arms. in one crude form or another, at different periods of ancient history. Heraldry, however, as we know it today, did not become of much importance until soon after the invasion of England by William the Conqueror, A. D. 1066. Heraldry became of general interest at about the time of the Crusades.

The Marshall Coat of Arms shown in the front of this volume is the Arms of the Marshalls of Aislabie Grange, co. York; Theddlethorpe, co. Lincoln, and London. Coats of Arms very similar to it are used by the Marshalls of Patterdale Park, whose pedigree is contained in this book, and by many others. Col. Hubert Marshall and numerous other branches of the Marshall family have Coats of Arms resembling it.

This is the most widely used of all Marshall Coats of Arms and has been in existence for many centuries. It is described in BURKE'S GENERAL ARMORY, BURKE'S LANDED GENTRY, BURKE'S PEERAGE AND BARONETAGE and other reliable works on heraldry, in some cases accompanied by illustrations and pedigrees. It has been used for generations by many American branches of the Marshall family.

	HERALDIC LANGUAGE	ENGLISH DESCRIPTION
Arms	Barry of six, argent and sable, a canton ermine.	A shield made up of six stripes, alternately black and silver; an ermine spotted square in the upper right-hand corner.
Crest	A man in armor, proper, in his right hand a baton and in his left a dagger, sash gules.	A man in armour . . . all natural colors except the sash, which is red.
Motto	Nec Cito Nec Tarde.	Neither fast nor slow.

Sir Bernard Burke, of Heralds College, London, said: "Heraldry is prized by all who can show honorable ancestry or wish to found honorable families."

Besides its family significance this Coat of Arms makes an excellent mural decoration and inspires the admiration and comment of all who see it.

It is quite appropriate that members of the Marshall family who have a pride in their ancestry should display the family Coat of Arms, in proper colors.

(I) PROMINENT MARSHALLS OF AMERICA,

PAST GENERATIONS

CHARLES HENRY: Merchant; b., Easton, N. Y., 1792. His ancestors were natives of Nantucket, his father removing to the Saratoga patent in 1785; become proprietor and master of the "Old Line" of packets between New York and Liverpool, but in 1834 left the sea, having crossed the Atlantic ninety-four times. Later he superintentended the building of new vessels, one of which, the "United States," was purchased by the Prussian Government. He was third president of the Union League Club of New York.

CHRISTOPHER: Patriot; b., Dublin, Ireland, 1709; received a classical education in England; was disowned by his parents on coming to this country without their permission; settled in Philadelphia, becoming a chemist and pharmacist; was one of the committee that met in the State House, April 25, 1775, to consider measures to be pursued in the "critical affairs of America." See his "Remembrancer," a war-time diary, in the possession of the Pennsylvania Historical Society.

CHARLES: (s. of Christopher) pharmacist; b., Phila., 1744; was chosen first president of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, 1824.

EDWARD CHAUNCEY: Author; b., Little Falls, N. Y., 1824; descended from Thomas, who settled in Boston in 1634; made several valuable inventions during his days at Hobart College, from which he was graduated in 1843. In 1871 he held an office in the N. Y. custom house; in 1888 was the financial agent of the American Protective Tariff League. He was the author of many books.

ELISHA GAYLORD: (brother of Edward Chauncey) soldier; b., Seneca Falls, N. Y., 1829; grad. from U. S. Military Academy, 1850; was brevetted brigadier-general of Volunteers and of the U. S. Army for gallant and meritorious services while commanding the Army of the Potomac. He retired as Colonel, Sept. 11, 1867.

HUMPHREY: Botanist; b., W. Bradford (now Marshallton), Pa., 1722. In 1773 he planned and created the botanic garden at Marshallton. He was treasurer for Chester Co., trustee of the public loan office and member of the American Philosophical Society.

JAMES WILSON: Discover of gold in California; b., Hope, N. J., 1812; learned trade of coach and wagon builder, and entered lumber business with Gen. Sutter in Coloma, Calif. In 1848, while superintending the construction of a mill race, he found a nugget of gold, the discovery of which brought the great influx of adventurers who seized his property, disputed his claim, and finally reduced him to extreme poverty.

JOSIAH: Merchant; b., Billarica, Mass., 1771. His father was a Lt. in the Revolutionary Army and he was ninth in descent from a captain in Oliver Cromwell's Army; was largely engaged in East India trade and first conceived the gigantic commercial plans for the northwestern coast of America, which John Jacob Astor afterward partially carried out.

ORSAMUS HOLMES: Historian; b., Franklin, Conn., 1813; s., Dr. John E., who was one of the earliest settlers of Buffalo. He gained a wide reputation as historian of the aboriginal inhabitants of western N. J., and was personally acquainted with Red Jacket and other chiefs, receiving from them much of the data for his work. He was U. S. Commissioner for the northern district of N. Y. and Chancellor of the University of Buffalo.

(K) MARSHALL TOWNS, ETC.

There are in the United States towns as follows:

MARSHALL: Ark., Calif., Ill., Ind., Mich., Minn., Mo., N. C., N. Dak., Okla., Tex., Va., Wash., Wis., Wyo.; MARSHALLBERG: N. C.; MARSHALL HALL: Md.; MARSHALL PASS: Colo.; MARSHALLS CREEK: Pa.; MARSHALLTON: Del.; MARSHALLTOWN: Iowa; MARSHALLVILLE: Ga., Ohio. There are also in the United States numerous counties, townships, streets, avenues, etc., bearing the name "Marshall." This is eloquent testimony to the high esteem in which the name is held in this country.

(L) MARSHALL CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES

The compiler of these records has made up a list from city and telephone directories of the United States, and from other sources, as follows. Care was taken to eliminate, wherever possible, persons known or believed to be colored, or of nationalities other than British and American:

Alabama	63	Maine	79	Oklahoma	80
Arizona	31	Maryland	89	Oregon	25
Arkansas	34	Massachusetts	657	Pennsylvania	703
California	737	Michigan	366	Rhode Island	88
Colorado	85	Minnesota	99	South Carolina	11
Connecticut	147	Mississippi	19	South Dakota	9
District of Columbia	136	Missouri	183	Tennessee	95
Delaware	21	Montana	35	Texas	332
Florida	169	Nebraska	93	Utah	35
Georgia	60	Nevada	2	Vermont	31
Idaho	16	New Hampshire	79	Virginia	170
Illinois	558	New Jersey	234	Washington	108
Indiana	290	New Mexico	4	West Virginia	94
Iowa	116	New York	746	Wisconsin	110
Kansas	92	North Carolina	59	Wyoming	4
Kentucky	106	North Dakota	2
Louisiana	44	Ohio	599	Total	7945

To secure an estimate of the "Marshall population" of the United States, we figure as follows:

	(a) multiply by
Only about half the names were taken from each directory consulted	2
Half of the Marshalls reside in the rural districts or in small towns having no printed directores which were available to us	2
There is an average of more than four persons in each American family	4
Since Marshall daughters marry and have as many descendants as as the Marshall sons, there are as many descendants of "other names" as there are bearing the name Marshall (though it is much easier to locate the latter)	2

By multiplying each figure of column (a) into the preceding figure, we have a total of 32

Conservative estimate of the Marshall population of the United States, one-half of whom bear the name Marshall and one-half of whom bear other names 254,240

The estimated Marshall population of any of the states may be obtained by multiplying the figures shown by 32. There are Marshalls in every state of the Union. The Marshall population of the British Empire is probably equal to that in the United States.

(M) RELIGIONS OF THE MARSHALLS

For several centuries the Marshalls lived in England, Scotland and North Ireland. Most of the British (with the exception of those living in South Ireland, and, likewise, the Marshalls, were and are of the Protestant faith.

There are a few Marshalls of the Catholic faith in the British Isles, but it is estimated that their number does not exceed eight per cent. of the entire Marshall population.

The Marshalls who came from the British Isles to America continued in the faith of their fathers, for the most part, though their descendants in this country today will be found in the memberships of practically all the various churches. It is estimated that of all the Marshalls in America who are church members, at least ninety per cent. are of the Protestant faith.

Biographical sketches of 41 Marshalls appear in WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA. Their religious faiths are shown as follows: BAPTIST, 1; EPISCOPAL, 2; METHODIST, 2; PRESBYTERIAN, 4; ROMAN CATHOLIC, 1; UNIVERSALIST, 2; other PROTESTANTS, 1; religion not stated, 28.
